Subject: Residential map and DQO

Kris,

I don't have the updated maps from Marilyn yet, but this map will help with our discussion today. This shows the residential properties in grey, and in colors are the people that came to the meeting in Northport and specifically requested that their property be sampled. Some of them are way outside of what we would consider for a first round of sampling (those in the insert) but enough people really pushed for us to go closer to Northport and it isn't very many properties, so we're planning on including them.

I've also attached the DQO memo that I used to task SRC to write the sampling plan. The DQO memo was morphing into a sampling plan, so we cut it off and are going to focus our efforts on the sampling plan instead of going several round of edits on a DQO memo and wasting time. If you see any fatal flaws in the DQO memo, I'd like to discuss them (and I fully realize that it may not be today since you're just seeing this).

I'm also working with Kay Morrison to finalize an informal mailer to send out to property owners to give them a heads up. I'm hoping to have that near final to share with you today. We'll follow that with an official Access Agreement.

Talk to you at 11.
